BRITAIN MAY SEND FLEET AND TROOPS TO LAND AT SALONIKI AND AID GREECE

London Newspaper Urges Government to Follow Example of France in Opposing Teutons and Bulgaria—Latter Country and Greece Expected to Announce Division Soon—Renewed Fighting on Western Front Heralds Another Drive—Germans Invade Serbia

[Associated Press Service by Federal Wireless]

Germany Invades Serbia, Sending In Large Forces, Well Established

LONDON, England, Oct. 7.—Large forces of Germans have invaded Serbia, crossing the Drina, Save and Danube rivers, and are proceeding steadily on their apparent route to cut through to the aid of Turkey. As the troops proceed they are establishing firm footholds.

Bulgaria Expected to Start War Soon

LONDON, England, Oct. 7.—News that the Bulgarians are joining the Teutonic Allies is now expected momentarily, following the rupture at Sofia between the Bulgarian government and the diplomats of the Entente Powers, who have asked for their passports.

It is believed here that Greece will soon come to a decision to abandon neutrality and will eventually join the Entente Allies.

Fighting On West; May Be New Attack

BERLIN, Germany, Oct. 7.—Renewed fighting of great severity in the Champagne district and elsewhere on the western front heralds a possible second great drive by the Allies, similar to that begun a number of days ago.

Six massed infantry attacks were made by the French on the German first line at Souain, but broke down under heavy fire.

Steamer at Rio Was Attacked at Sea

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Oct. 7.—The possibility that a vessel hostile to Great Britain is still roaming the seas was given color today by the report of the British freighter San Melito, on arrival today from Tuxpan, Mexico. The freighter reported that an unknown vessel in the night attacked her and sent eight projectiles against her sides, which exploded and killed one and wounded six of the crew.

TARIFF NEWS IS BIG BOOM FOR HAWAII

World Series Tomorrow; Interest Runs Fever-High

RIVAL MANAGERS WHOSE TEAMS CLASH TOMORROW

Manager "Elli" Carrigan of the Boston Americans (Red Sox).

BASEBALL FANS ARE INVITED TO WATCH THE STAR-BULLETIN RETURNS

The Star-Bulletin has made arrangements with the Associated Press and the Federal Wireless service for special returns on the world baseball series which begins in Philadelphia tomorrow. The game is to be "flushed" by innings and those who watched the Star-Bulletin returns last year remember the quickness and accuracy with which the news of the games came in. The score by innings, batteries and other information will be posted on a blackboard in front of the Star-Bulletin office on Alakea street tomorrow. First news may come as early as 9 o'clock. Everybody invited!

LEGAL OPINION ON BIG SERIES BY LAWYER-FAN

Attorney D. L. Withington Discusses Phillies and Red Sox From Personal Observation

Here, fans, is a "legal opinion" on the big world series which starts tomorrow. It is by Attorney D. L. Withington, who is forgetting the musty law for a week now so that he can devote his time to the more important subject of baseball. Mr. Withington is one of the most ardent followers of clean sport in Honolulu and a baseball fan of high degree. In the following article he speaks from close observation of both teams.

Editor Honolulu Star-Bulletin:
I have seen both the Philadelphia and Red Sox in action several times this season, and am foolishly enough to make some comments on them the day before the battle opens between a team which has always been characterized by an aggressive overconfidence and a team appropriately called the Quakers.

The Managers.
Taking up the teams: So far as managers are concerned the Philadelphia

CHINESE FROM HAWAII AMAZES MASSACHUSETTS REGISTRAR OF VOTERS

The registrars of New Bedford, Mass., were all agog recently when Ching Quon Amona, who was born in Honolulu and who therefore is a citizen of the United States, walked into their office and demanded the right to vote.
"The registrars were busy answering many, many perplexing questions," says the New Bedford Mercury. "Mr. Amona's case presented a new problem such as they have never had to solve before. But Mr. Amona showed his papers, which proved that he was born in Hawaii and had voted there."
Ching Quon Amona is Chinese. He now is a student in the Textile School in New Bedford. His early education was received in the local public schools, in McKinley high school and at the College of Hawaii.

CLOUDY WEATHER OR RAIN PREDICTED FOR FIRST GAME TOMORROW

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless]
PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 7.—On the eve of the world championship series interest among a world of fans is running fever high and indications are that enormous crowds will see the contests, both here and at Boston. Weather predictions today are that tomorrow will be cloudy with a possibility of rain.

CAN KILLIFER PLAY?

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 7.—One of the big questions among the fans who are hoping the Red Sox will take the world's series, is whether William Killifer, catcher for the Phillies, will be able to play. It is not known whether his arm, which was injured some weeks ago, will be in condition to allow him to take part. The discussion centers around the query whether the Phillies' great pitcher, Alexander, will be able to show at his best without the services of his regular catcher.

TWO NEW LEADERS IN LIMELIGHT OF WORLD'S BIG BASEBALL SERIES

(By Associated Press.)
NEW YORK.—When the Philadelphia Nationals and the Boston Americans meet in the world series later in the week new leaders will be seen at the managerial helms and the success or failure of the contending clubs will depend, to a great extent, upon the skill with which these men pilot their baseball machines. In Pat Moran and Bill Carrigan the Phillies and Red Sox respectively have diamond directors who are equipped to take their place in world series history alongside Connie Mack, George Stallings, John McGraw and Jake Stahl.

Both Moran and Carrigan have earned their positions at the head of the two pennant-winning clubs by hard and conscientious application in their chosen line of life work. Each has risen from the ranks after serving a hard apprenticeship and there are no secrets of the national game with which they are not familiar. When the teams take the field it will be a contest of skill and endurance between the individual players and the teams considered as units.

In one respect the Red Sox leader will have an advantage over his Philadelphia rival for in some of the games, at least, Carrigan will be just as familiar with the duties devolving upon the backstop, for he made his reputation as a catcher as Carrigan has done, but during the past season has handled his team from the bench whereas Carrigan has been in the thick of the pennant struggle much of the time.

Moran's History.
Patrick J. Moran, who has won a niche in baseball's Hall of Fame by reason of his whipping what was considered a mediocre ball club into a championship team, is a product of

Star-Bulletin Scores Big Beat On Sugar Tariff Retention News

The Star-Bulletin scored one of the biggest "scoops" in years and one of the most important in the history of Hawaii with its announcement yesterday that Secretary McAdoo would recommend the retention of the existing sugar tariff. This paper not only had a clean news beat on its competitor in the news cabled from Washington but had absolutely the only information on this momentous sugar "story" that came to Hawaii until last night the Associated Press confirmed the news in its regular despatches.

As a result, the Star-Bulletin extra yesterday afternoon gave Hawaii the first news, and, as has been proved again and again, its news from Washington is definite and reliable.

The Washington representative of the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association sent a cablegram which reached the association this morning, carrying the same information as the Star-Bulletin gave shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The Star-Bulletin was able to give leading sugar men here the information before this. The cablegram from Washington arrived just too late to be included in the first regular edition. While getting ready for the extra, the Star-Bulletin editorial staff gave the information to such representative sugar men as could be reached in a hurry and secured their views on the situation. The news flashed around with the rapidity of the proverbial wild fire and, when the extra appeared on the streets in a short time, it seemed as if everybody in Honolulu knew it.

C. S. Albert, the Star-Bulletin's Washington correspondent, is the man who secured the announcement at the national capital and made it possible for the Star-Bulletin to announce what a leading sugar man today called "the biggest news Hawaii has had in three years." Mr. Albert is head of the New York World bureau at Washington and for several years has represented this paper there, with what notable success is known. Again and again he has furnished the Star-Bulletin exclusive news from Washington and sugar men here have come to follow his correspondence and cablegrams with unusual faith. It will be generally remembered that for many weeks past his letters pointed out the need for revenue facing the administration and the certainty that the sugar tariff would come in for consideration. In fact, in a letter published on September 28, he said: "The attitude assumed is clearly favorable to a retention of the present rate on sugar," and told of Secretary McAdoo's plan to take up the question of the sugar tariff as a revenue producer.

HOSPITAL FOR CHILDREN ASKS AID FROM CITY

Kauikoolani Institution Has Income of $9500 and Expenses Run to $12,000 Annually

With an annual expenditure approximating $12,000, and an income of not more than $9500, the Kauikoolani Children's Hospital, by authority of its trustees, seeks aid from the city. W. O. Smith, treasurer of the institution, has written to the board of supervisors setting forth the needs of the hospital, which are now approximately $2500 annually.

"It will be seen," writes Mr. Smith, "that the present revenue from all sources is not sufficient to meet the current expenses and the trustees feel constrained to seek some assistance from the city and county."

Mr. Smith also asks permission to come in person and place the matter before the supervisors. He says that the number of patients is increasing so rapidly and the usefulness of the hospital is growing so great that more patients will have to be accommodated and more facilities will be required at once.

According to the statement made, more than 80 per cent of all the patients that have been cared for during the last year have been treated free. These patients were received from the juvenile court, the reform school, the Susannah Wesley home, Palama settlement, Castle home, Lanakila home and from many private homes. None refused admittance.

Girls under the age of 15 years and boys under the age of 12 years are received as patients without regard to nationality or religion, and none are refused admittance because of lack of means to pay the expenses.

"The trustees," says Mr. Smith, "endeavor to have the hospital managed with economy and at the same time have it supplying all necessary comforts for the patients, with skilled physicians, nurses and surgeons, so that the patient may have the best care and treatment."

"The grounds, buildings and equipment, with the improvements costing nearly $100,000, were paid for by Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Wilcox of Lihue, Kauai, and the endowment fund, which amounts to about $120,000, was contributed by individuals who were impressed with the need of such an institution in Honolulu. There were hospitals and homes for all classes of people in Honolulu, excepting a hospital to provide special treatment for children."

Patients Since Opening.

Figures and statements submitted by Mr. Smith, showing the work of the hospital since it was opened in November, 1910, are especially interesting. Patients have been admitted as follows:
Nov. 1910, to Dec. 31, 1911.....261
Jan. 1, to Dec. 31, 1912.....272
Jan. 1 to Dec. 31, 1913.....429
Jan. 1 to Dec. 31, 1914.....642
Jan. 1 to July 31, 1915.....401
The foregoing figures show how rapidly the number of patients has increased, that while the first year had but 261, the number during the fourth year was nearly three times as great, and that the present year, with a total for six months of 401, promises to be nearly four times as great as the first year's figures.

The present total expense of main-

SHIFT LURLINE TO AUSTRALIAN RUN, NEW RUMOR

Capt. Weeden of Manoa Re-called to Coast, Presumably to Take Lurline South

In the hurried departure this afternoon for San Francisco on the Ventura of Capt. Henry F. Weeden, commander of the Matson steamer Manoa, men prominent in shipping affairs here believe they see the impending temporary withdrawal from the San Francisco-Honolulu run of the Matson steamer Lurline, which they say is to be placed in the Australian grain-carrying trade from now to the close of this year.

This morning a cable from the Matson offices in San Francisco, to Castle & Cooke, local Matson agents, ordered Capt. Weeden to leave on the Ventura this afternoon for the mainland. Obeying orders, the captain leaves on the steamer, J. H. Drew, manager of Castle & Cooke's shipping department, on being asked what had called Capt. Weeden to the coast so suddenly, replied, "Business for the company."

Asked if he thought that this substantial rumors to the effect that the Lurline will be withdrawn from the Honolulu run and put to work on the Australian run, Mr. Drew would not discuss the question.

"I have heard nothing definite from San Francisco, except the cable today ordering Capt. Weeden to return here," he said. "There have been rumors that the Lurline was to be taken off this run temporarily, but we have had no confirmation."

"Sugar grinding is all over until about the end of December," he added, "and this is a slack time for freight from the islands. The Matson company will have ample tonnage left to take care of the islands' needs if the Lurline is taken off. The boat would not be removed permanently, but only until sugar grinding is resumed."

When the Manoa goes out for Kahului tonight with her skipper absent, it is probable that Chief Officer J. W. Jory will be in command. Whether he will be promoted to permanent captaincy of the Manoa, was not stated by Mr. Drew.

Report was received from London of the death of Captain Walter John Hartley of the Fifth Regiment of Irish Volunteers. He was killed in action.

CABLE T. K. K. URGING

SPECIAL SHIP TO TAKE HONOLULU MEN TO JAPAN

The chairman of the Japanese Hotel Keepers' Association of Honolulu cabled President Asano of the T. K. K. line to dispatch a ship here immediately to take care of the passengers who wish to leave for Japan to attend the coronation ceremonies. More than 400 Japanese eager to go are unable to book passage on the Chiyo Maru which leaves tomorrow for the Orient.
More than 1000 Japanese residents of Honolulu will attend the coronation ceremonies which will be held in Kyoto on November 10.

SUGAR MEN OF TERRITORY ARE JOYFUL TODAY

Indications That Planters Will Agree Entirely With Administration's Plan for Retention of Duties, Though Until Further Details Come no Definite Statements are Made

GREAT PROSPERITY FOR PRODUCERS IS FORECAST

Despatch from Mainland Shows Enthusiasm With Which News of Secretary McAdoo's Recommendation is Received There; Local Stock Market Reflects General Optimism and Sugar Stocks Go Up

[Associated Press by Federal Wireless]

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., Oct. 7.—The San Francisco Call-Post says today that the news that Secretary McAdoo has recommended to the president the retention of the present duty of a cent a pound on sugar as an imperative revenue measure has aroused great enthusiasm here. It will mean that Congress will be asked to repeal the present law abolishing the duty on May 1, 1916. Even with the reduced tariff on sugar this year, the war and its stimulation of prices have more than offset the losses which would naturally result to the producers.

Probably a year of the greatest prosperity is ahead for the industry, it is declared.

W. R. Farrington of Honolulu, who has recently returned from Washington, confirms the news that the tariff will probably be retained.

Hawaii's sugar men and business leaders will almost without doubt accept with hearty accord the plan for the retention of the existing sugar tariff "until normal conditions are restored," as announced by Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo yesterday. This, together with the plain result of almost overwhelming joy and hope for the future, are the two principal impressions gained by the Star-Bulletin in talks with businessmen of Honolulu today.

Definite statements are not yet forthcoming, for in the first place a number of the leading sugar men are now on the coast, and in the second place, details of Secretary McAdoo's plan are not yet available. The general belief seems to be that "there are no strings tied to the plan," but there is a quite apparent disposition to wait until more facts are in.

But though the news as yet is meager, there is no question of the joy that flashed over the territory when the Star-Bulletin announced in an extra yesterday afternoon that Mr. McAdoo would recommend the retention of the existing duties on Hawaii's staple.

An Associated Press despatch to the Advertiser last night reiterated the news cabled to the Star-Bulletin early yesterday afternoon. This morning Judge Sidney M. Ballou, the representative in Washington of the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' Association, sent a cablegram repeating the news. It was said today that Judge Ballou's cablegram brought no further details of the proposed administration action. Sugar men, while chary of saying definitely what the planters are likely to do, agree that the outlook is extremely promising and that on the basis of what is now known Hawaii can "second the motion" with unanimity.

"This is as much as Hawaii could hope for—more than many have hoped for," said one well-informed observer today. "There is no reason why the territory can't back up very heartily the plan Secretary McAdoo proposes, and which undoubtedly will meet with the president's approval."

News Bears Out Governor Pinkham's Information.
That the news received yesterday by the Star-Bulletin relative to the fact that Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo has recommended keeping the tariff on sugar until such time as conditions are more settled, is in keeping with statements that Governor Pinkham has made at various times in public places is the gist of an interview given out by the governor today to a representative of this paper.

"I stated at a banquet at the Pacific
